Discover Chelsea with a Local Friend

Your personal guide to neighborhoods, schools and hidden gems

Moving to a new town can feel overwhelming but with the right guide, it becomes an adventure

I've hosted local tours, jumped into countless community events, and served on nonprofit boards, so I know this community inside and out.

I'll help you discover the places, people, and experiences that will make it feel like home in no time.

Together we'll explore, so when you're ready to buy, you'll already feel at home.

- ✓ Community advocate: Board member of Chelsea Community Foundation, Rotary Club of Chelsea, Chelsea Chamber Ambassador.
- ✓ Time-flexible: No matter your timeline, I'm here to answer questions and share resources.

BOOK BRIGADE

On April 13, 2025, more than 300 Chelsea volunteers formed an unforgettable “book brigade,” creating a human chain down Main Street to move Serendipity Books into its new home. In less than two hours, over 9,000 books were passed hand-to-hand into the shop’s larger space at 119 S. Main. The moment captured national attention—spotlighting owner Michelle Tuplin, her beloved bookstore, and a community that shows up for each other in the most extraordinary ways.
