CHELSEA STATE BANK WELCOMES NEIL WAGLER TO THEIR COMMERCIAL BANKING TEAM

THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 3, 2026, | WASHTENAW, JACKSON MI – Chelsea State Bank announced today that Neil T. Wagler has joined its commercial banking team as Vice President, Commercial Banking Officer. Wagler brings extensive commercial banking experience, including responsibility for a loan portfolio exceeding $150 million and 10 years of service as a commercial loan officer.

“The Chelsea State Bank team is enthusiastic to welcome Neil to our organization,” said Thomas DuMont, Senior Vice President of Chelsea State Bank. “His experience and commitment to relationship-focused banking will complement our commercial banking efforts as we continue providing exceptional, locally focused service to the Jackson and Washtenaw Communities.”

Wagler earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Central Michigan University. He also completed the American Bankers Association's Commercial Lending School and the Michigan Bankers Association's Commercial Lending School.

“I’m excited to join Chelsea State Bank and be part of an organization that puts such a strong emphasis on relationships and the communities it services,” said Neil Wagler, Vice President, Commercial Banking Officer, Chelsea State Bank. “I’ve always believed the best part of community banking is getting to know your customers, understanding their businesses, and finding ways to help them succeed. I’m looking forward to continuing that here.”

Neil grew up in Hillsdale County and attended North Adams-Jerome High School and now lives in Jackson. Neil's community involvement includes volunteering with Junior Achievement financial awareness and literacy programs and supporting the State of Michigan's Adopt-A-Highway cleanup efforts.
